

Happy Tuesday Division 11 !!!

I hope that you had a wonderful weekend :). I am not going to schedule a zoom meeting this week as I would like to get some more information regarding the upcoming weeks first. I look forward to seeing some smiling faces next week :) Hopefully we will have some sort of idea as to what June will look like soon.

This is a short week so I will just suggest a few things to do each day. A little bit of reading, writing, and arithmetic (math) :).

I have assigned a few tasks on ixl for you to do for math this week. When you sign on to ixl, look at your dashboard. On the bottom of that page there are suggested activities. I am going to save working in the math duo-tangs for June so please put them away for a bit :). We will all continue with regrouping with addition and subtraction then. I have also reattached the math game videos in case you haven't had a chance to play them yet.

As always, please try to:

- read for 15-30 minutes per day
- write 4 to 8 sentences in your journal
- spellingcity.com ('Group A'- list 36, 'Group B'- list 26)

For Language Arts this week, I found a really fun activity about cereal boxes. One activity has you going on a scavenger hunt ....a cereal box scavenger hunt!!!! One activity has you trying to find a word on the cereal box that starts with each letter of the alphabet!!! The last one has 4 different writing activities for you to choose from!!!

Once again, thank you for all that you do to support your child's learning. You are doing great things with them at home and thanks for sharing that with me. Please remember to do only as much school work as you find reasonable for you and your child. If you have any questions or concerns, please contact me.

Have a great week!
